Mr. Margolin,

We received you FOIA request, dated 26 Apr 10, in our office at Wright-Patterson AFB, OH on 26 Apr 10. The control number assigned to your request is 2010-04185-F ST3. I am the analyst assigned to your request, please contact me if you have any questions. In your request you had requested a Fee Waiver, after consideration from our FOIA Manager, the following information is supplied:

"There is no contribution to an understanding of the subject by the general public, but rather a small segment of interested persons. Requestor doesn't appear to have the capability to, or intention to, disseminate this information to the general public. Furthermore, there is no significant contribution to the public if it were widely released. Therefore, the request for a waiver of fees is denied."

With that, DOD 5400.7/AF Supplement 1, states that a willingness to pay statement must be included:

Fee Issue: Request must indicate a willingness to pay fees associated with the processing of your request. As described in DoD Regulation 5400.7/Air Force Supplement, Paragraph C1.4.2. DoD FOIA Program, "Requestors should indicate a willingness to pay fees associated with the processing of their request or, in the alternative, why a waiver of fees may be appropriate." You will be contacted if the cost to provide the requested document(s) exceeds the amount authorized by you.

There are three fee categories:

1. Commercial: Search and review time is chargeable at $44.00 per hour and reproduction is chargeable at fifteen cents per page.
2. Educational or Noncommercial Scientific Institution or News Media, or Union: The first 100 copies are free, additional copies are fifteen cents per page. No charge for search or review. News media must be able to justify that they are actively gathering news for an entity that is organized and operated to publish or broadcast news to the public, such as a publication contract.
3. All Others: The first 2 hours of search and review time are free. The remaining search and review time beyond 2 hours is chargeable at $44.00 per hour. The first 100 pages are free. Reproduction beyond 100 pages is chargeable at fifteen cents per page.

Please respond to this correspondence indicating which fee category is appropriate for you and the dollar amount that you are willing to pay by 30 Apr 10, if you do not respond by this date, we will consider your request closed. In some instances (cost to provide requested documents exceed $250.00 or the requester has no prior payment history), payment may be requested before any documents are released to you.

Subject: Fw: Mr. Booher's email
Dear Tech Sergeant Kennerly,

Thank you for the very nice conversation we had yesterday.

I received an email this morning from Mr. Darrin L. Booher at Wright Patterson this morning.

It was not so nice.

He wrote:

"There is no contribution to an understanding of the subject by the general public, but rather a small segment of interested persons. Requestor doesn't appear to have the capability to, or intention to, disseminate this information to the general public. Furthermore, there is no significant contribution to the public if it were widely released. Therefore, the request for a waiver of fees is denied."

He hasn't seen my article "How the United States Air Force Treats Independent Inventors." I have only now started writing it.

His statement, "Requestor doesn't appear to have the capability to, or intention to, disseminate this information to the general public[,]" suggests he hasn't seen my web site (www.jmargolin.com), and in particular, my article on NASA (How NASA Treats Independent Inventors).

Either that or he has decided to deliberately insult me.

I recommend he also visit my other Web sites: www.cordevistahoa.org and www.storeycountywindfarms.org

I set up these Web sites to address issues that are important to my County (Storey County, NV).

www.cordevistahoa.org documents how a Developer came into my County (population 4,600) and proposed to build housing for 50,000 people. One of the issues was water. Water is always an issue here in the West, especially in Nevada. We don't have much. The Developer refused to say where he was going to get water for 50,000 people. He also was not honest about the issue of soil contamination from the site's previous owners, which included Curtis Wright and Aerojet.

The Storey County Planning Commission publicly thanked me for putting up the Web site, saying it had helped them make their decision. (A grassroots movement against the project also helped.)

The Planning Commission turned down the Developer's application. The Storey County Commissioners accepted the Planning Commission's recommendations. The Developer sued Storey County. The Developer lost. The Developer appealed to the Nevada Supreme Court. Before the case was heard the Developer settled with the County. The Developer agreed to follow the existing zoning and the County agreed to allow for green energy development.

www.storeycountywindfarms.org contains the documents for a BLM project with Great Basin Wind to put up a wind farm of 69 enormous wind turbines. Some of them would be less than 1 mile from Virginia City.

(The entire town of Virginia City is a National Historic Landmark.)

Some of the towers would be less than 1 mile from my neighborhood, which Great Basin Wind left off their map.

The project appears to be stalled:

http://www.blm.gov/nv/st/en/fo/carson_city_field/blm_programs/planning/new_comstock_wind.html

Part of the reason for this may be because I showed that Great Basin Wind lied on their project application.

For Mr. Booher to question my abilities, my intentions, or my resolve is a mistake.

Mr. Booher's email follows.

Regards,

Jed Margolin

Subject: Re: AFSPC FOIA Request
Dear Ms. Crochunis,

Short Version: The second request to AFMC Patrick AFB was because I lost my place on my list and submitted it twice.

The third request to Patrick is for AFNIC Patrick AFB which may be a separate facility requiring a separate FOIA Request. If it does, then there are two FOIA Requests.

Longer Version:

After I registered to file a FOIA Request on Sunday I found that the USAF FOIA Web site requires making a separate request to each Command.

There are 27 Commands to choose from, with no explanation of what they are: HAF, AFMC, AFRC, AFSOC, AFSPC, AMC, AFDW, AFOTEC, ACC, USAFE, AETC, PACAF, USAFA, AFAA, AFCEE, AFNIC, AFHRA, AFISR, AFOSI, AFPC, AFSVA, AFTAC, ANG, AFSC, USAFCENT, NASIC, AFGSC.

Perhaps you know what they are, but I am a civilian and I had to look up each one.

The ones I identified as likely commands that might have had something to do with the X-37B were HAF, AFMC, AFAA, AFNIC, AFHRA, and AFISR.

Then I discovered that if I filled in the form by cutting and pasting from a Microsoft Word document, editing the result -even a little bit- deleted large portions of text. Thus I did both parts of the form with attachments.

And then I discovered that, not only did I have to specify which Command, I had to specify which facility. By my count there are 129 separate facilities plus 101 ANG units. I felt it was unlikely that the X-37B was developed by the Air National Guard so that left only 129 facilities to look up. I looked up a number of them on Sunday.

After I chose the first one I clicked on Save, and got the error message: "Internal Error Occurred, Close the browser and open new browser."

I tried that and got the same result.

After an email to af.foia@pentagon.af.mi (on Sunday the mailto: link was improperly formed) I was informed that the site worked only with Microsoft Internet Explorer and I needed to turn the pop-up blocker completely off.

On Monday morning I looked up the remaining 129 facilities and narrowed my list down to ten facilities.

After my first submission to AFMC Patrick I lost my place on the list and submitted a second once.

Then when I tried to submit the FOIA Request to AFNIC Patrick I discovered there is no AFNIC Patrick on the Web site list so I submitted it to AFMC Patrick again.

If AFNIC Patrick requires a separate request please send it to them.

Sincerely yours,

Jed Margolin

BTW -

1. Both Firefox and MSIE report a problem with your Web site's Security Certificate. It reports: "The security certificate presented by this website was not issued by a trusted certificate authority." I proceeded anyway.
2. I was not able to determine where AFRL is. One Web site says ROME NY but I don't see it on the list.
<http://www.wpafb.af.mil/news/story.asp?id=123198513>
3. Several of the FOIA Requests I submitted have been closed. I assume it is because in my conversation with TSgt Kennerly he said that the Pentagon would be handling it.

Mr. Margolin,

I can definitely understand your confusion and frustration if you're not familiar with the AF structure.

AFNIC is at Scott AFB in Illinois, so I'm a little confused when you say AFNIC Patrick, because Patrick AFB is in Florida. AFNIC belongs to AF Space Command (AFSPC) and Patrick AFB belongs to AF Space Command (AFSPC), but I believe what you are looking for might be found at Patrick AFB, that would be my best guess between the two bases. I have already forwarded your original request to Patrick AFB and they are already in the process of working the request. If you concur we will just process the one request at Patrick AFB and close the other two. Please confirm.

Yes, I concur.

When I went to AFNIC's web site <http://www.afnic.af.mil/> Air Force Network Integration Center, I learned from <http://www.afnic.af.mil/main/welcome.asp>

Directs the integration of systems onto the Air Force network to achieve integrated and interoperable Air Force concepts of operation capabilities.

Provides seamless connectivity for the command and control of air and space forces. Drives innovative information superiority solutions for Air Force warfighters by generating progressive standards, architectures, and force structure policies and guidance.

Advocates Air Force-wide communications and information planning, resourcing, testing, training, implementation, and sustainment.

The home page has the article: Air Force officials launch Atlas V carrying X-37B Orbital Test Vehicle

That looked promising.

I see now that it was under the heading: AFSPC News.

Oops.

When I went to the Patrick AFB Web site (<http://www.patrick.af.mil/>) I also saw the article (under Media Center)

45th Space Wing Launches Atlas V Carrying X-37B Orbital Test Vehicle

So I sent a request to them (I think.)

When I went to the Peterson AFB Web site (<http://www.peterson.af.mil/>) I again saw the article Air Force officials launch Atlas V carrying X-37B Orbital Test Vehicle | VIDEO

And I see now that it was also under the heading: AFSPC News.

Oops again.

Thank you for your patience.

Good Afternoon Mr. Margolin,

I have reviewed the request you sent regarding the information below:

I would like all documents relating to the use of Synthetic Vision in the project being reported as the X-37B and/or the X-40A

I have been unable to find records responsive to your request. I have sent the request forward to legal, contracting and the mission divisions for evaluation. Unless you can send me a contract #, the name of a program manager, or some other defining information, we will be forced to close this request as no records found.

Please advise.

Thank you for your assistance.

Dear Pennie Carlo AFRL/RIOI,

The company Rapid Imaging Software produced the Synthetic Vision software for the X-38 when it was a NASA project. It is likely that Rapid Imaging Software would have also done Synthetic Vision for the X-37 / X37B / X-40.

The database at <http://www.fedspending.org> produces a number of results for the company "Rapid Imaging Software."

One is for a DOD project in FY2004. See attached file jm_ris_dod.pdf

I do not know which number is the contract number.

Since the X-37B was a black project the contracting may have been done through NASA or maybe even the Department of Transportation. See attached file jm_ris_summary.pdf .

Or, since it was a black project, you may not have access to the information.

The existence of the project is not a secret anymore (<http://latimesblogs.latimes.com/technology/robots/>), only its purpose.

Synthetic Vision is not a secret. Synthetic Vision is already used on UAVs like the Shadow 200, as well as on commercial aircraft with the pilot onboard. See <https://buy.garmin.com/shop/shop.do?pID=37630> .

Mike Abernathy of Rapid Imaging Software has collaborated with AFRL on several papers relating to Synthetic Vision. For example, from the paper Synthetic vision system for improving unmanned aerial vehicle operator situation awareness, page 3:

(<http://www.dtic.mil/cgi-bin/GetTRDoc?AD=ADA436272&Location=U2&doc=GetTRDoc.pdf>):

2. COLLABORATION ON CANDIDATE UAV SYNTHETIC VISION SYSTEM

The Air Force Research Laboratory's Warfighter Interface Division has engaged in an undertaking to design and evaluate the military utility of conformal interactive synthetic vision overlay concepts tailored to UAV operations.

Using detailed knowledge of current Air Force UAV operations along with established human factors design practices, several initial interface concepts have been generated and supporting hardware architecture developed. In parallel,

Rapid Imaging Software, Inc., under a NASA research contract, has developed a synthetic vision product called the SmartCam3D System (SCS) to improve the situation awareness of NASA UAV operators. The SCS has been engineered to be tested in operational UAV environments and has been evaluated by operators during multiple flights of the NASA X-38 UAV and the Army Shadow UAV. The present collaboration brings these two resources together to design and evaluate tailored synthetic visual overlays for various Air Force UAV and C2 applications, including those involving teleoperated and small UAV applications.

Did he do that for free?

Regards,

Jed Margolin

Dear Ms. Carlo,

It was a pleasure talking to you today.

I have attached the following emails for your files.

1. jm_patrickafb.pdf

Email from Shell Valliere, Patrick AFB, explaining that since the SAF FOIA office will be responding to my FOIA request she has closed the case at Patrick AFB.

2. jm_uspto_lr.pdf

The USPTO letter from the Department of Licensing and Review showing that patent application Serial Number 11726356 (Publication Number 20080033604) System and Method For Safely Flying Unmanned Aerial Vehicles in Civilian Airspace was sent to several agencies for a Security Review.

One of them was J.B. Schroeder at AFRL/VA.

3. jm_wpafb_booher1.pdf

Insulting email from Darrin Booher ((Booher, Darrin L Civ USAF AFMC 88 CG/SCOKI Darrin.Booher@WPAFB.AF.MIL) where he stated:

"There is no contribution to an understanding of the subject by the general public, but rather a small segment of interested persons. Requestor doesn't appear to have the capability to, or intention to, disseminate this information to the general public. Furthermore, there is no significant contribution to the public if it were widely released. Therefore, the request for a waiver of fees is denied."

4. jm_wpafb_booher2.pdf

My response to Mr. Booher.

5. jm_wpafb_booher3.pdf

Although Mr. Booher read my email he did not respond to it and closed my FOIA case at WPAFB.

6. I have brought a legal action against NASA for their refusal to comply with the Freedom of Information Act. My Second Amended Complaint may be instructive because it shows Mike Abernathy's (Rapid Imaging Software) involvement with NASA.

see doc016.pdf Motion For Leave to File Amended Complaint

see doc016-1.pdf Second Amended Complaint

see doc016-2.pdf Appendix Volume 1

see doc016-3.pdf Appendix Volume 2_1

see doc016-4.pdf Appendix Volume 2_2

see doc016-5.pdf Appendix Volume 3

For the past several years Mr. Abernathy has also been involved with AFRL. He listed AFRL researchers Mark Draper and Gloria Calhoun as coauthors in the article Synthetic Vision Technology for Unmanned Systems: Looking Back and Looking Forward which appeared in the December 2008 issue of AUVSI's Unmanned Systems magazine. The article is a spurious history of Synthetic Vision.

The AUVSI article and my response are available at http://www.jmargolin.com/svr/auvsi_response_index.htm

7. jm_ris_attorneys.pdf

AFRL may be interested in a letter that Mr. Abernathy's attorneys sent to Optima Technology Group in October 2006.

In it he says:

As you know, RIS refuses to allow its products to be used as a pilot aid, and RIS product licenses specifically prohibit use for piloting. None of RIS's customers use its software for piloting, for very good reason. Serious military regulations control placement of anything - synthetic vision included in a pilot workstation. Before anything can be placed on the display in front of a pilot, it has to have met stringent criteria (MIL-STD 1787C, DO-178B, etc.), it must have been thoroughly ground tested, and it must have been fully flight tested. RIS software has never been through this process, and thus is prohibited. from use for piloting. Accordingly, UAV manufacturers have purchased RIS products for use on the sensor operator console, but none for the pilot console. This is a matter of Army doctrine and applies to Shadow, Warrior and Hunter.

If AF is using Mr. Abernathy's software you might want to ask him if he has rewritten it to meet the standards mentioned in the letter.

Sincerely yours,

Jed Margolin

Margolin Patent Nos. 5,566,073 and 5,904,724

Dear Mr. Adams:

We represent Rapid Imaging Software, Inc. (RIS), which has referred to us your letter of September 19, 2006. At the outset, we are unable to discern that Optima has an interest in the patents it attempts to assert. Assuming that it does, however, and has merely neglected to record its interests, RIS does not infringe the Margolin patents.

As you know, RIS creates computer software, and does not use or manufacture UAV systems or ground control stations. RIS software is used in UAVs to provide situation awareness for sensor operators. It is not used for piloting air vehicles. The sensor operator does not pilot the aircraft, and instead sits at a separate workstation operating a payload containing one or more cameras, which may be controlled using a joystick to point the camera package during search or tracking operations.

As you know, RIS refuses to allow its products to be used as a pilot aid, and RIS product licenses specifically prohibit use for piloting. None of RIS's customers use its software for piloting, for very good reason. Serious military regulations control placement of anything—synthetic vision included—on a pilot workstation. Before anything can be placed on the display in front of a pilot, it has to have met stringent criteria (MIL-STD 1787C, DO-178B, etc.), it must have been thoroughly ground tested, and it must have been fully flight tested. RIS software has never been through this process, and thus is prohibited from use for piloting. Accordingly, UAV manufacturers have purchased RIS products for use on the sensor operator console, but none for the pilot console. This is a matter of Army doctrine and applies to Shadow, Warrior and Hunter.

Nor does RIS have its software in a form that would make it marketable for piloting. RIS software products are all based on the Microsoft Windows operating system. This offers many advantages, but is inappropriate to piloting aircraft because it is not a POSIX compliant real-time operating system. POSIX compliance is required by flight safety regulations. To create such a version would entail a one- to two-year conversion program in which RIS has not invested.

It is important to realize that the market for RIS products is quite different from the relaxed civilian world. If a military pilot chose to use synthetic vision in spite of military regulations or in defiance of a software license agreement, his career would be damaged or destroyed. Military pilots cherish their wings and would not consider risking them on something like synthetic version.

Finally, it appears from your correspondence that you regard research activities like NASA's X-38 prototypes (before the program was cancelled in 2002) as infringing the Margolin patents. This was not the case because of the claim limitations of the Margolin patents. However all RIS work for government agencies, including NASA, was authorized and consented to by the U.S. Government, and is protected under 28 U.S.C. § 1498(a). As you are aware, any remedies you may have are against the government and are circumscribed by that statute and related law.

Although we need not discuss the invalidity of the Margolin patents given the above circumstances, you should be aware that both patents were anticipated by profound prior art dating back to 1977. If it should ever become necessary, we are confident that both would be held invalid.

Very truly yours,

Benjamin Allison

Mr. Margolin,

We received you FOIA request, dated 26 Apr 10, in our office at Wright-Patterson AFB, OH on 26 Apr 10. The control number assigned to your request is 2010-04185-F ST3. I am the analyst assigned to your request, please contact me if you have any questions. In your request you had requested a Fee Waiver, after consideration from our FOIA Manager, the following information is supplied:

With that, DOD 5400.7/AF Supplement 1, states that a willingness to pay statement must be included:

Fee Issue: Request must indicate a willingness to pay fees associated with the processing of your request. As described in DoD Regulation 5400.7/Air Force Supplement, Paragraph C1.4.2. DoD FOIA Program, "Requestors should indicate a willingness to pay fees associated with the processing of their request or, in the alternative, why a waiver of fees may be appropriate." You will be contacted if the cost to provide the requested document(s) exceeds the amount authorized by you.

There are three fee categories:

1. Commercial: Search and review time is chargeable at $44.00 per hour and reproduction is chargeable at fifteen cents per page.

I suggest you ask TSgt Kennerly if you really want to close my FOIA Request.

P.S. - Considering the amount of coverage the national media gave to the X-37B launch your statement that the subject appeals only to a "small segment of interested persons" is obviously wrong. See this article in the LA Times. The article was published even before the X-37B was launched.

Subject: Fw: Mr. Booher's email

Dear Tech Sergeant Kennerly,

Thank you for the very nice conversation we had yesterday.

I received an email this morning from Mr. Darrin L. Booher at Wright Patterson this morning.

It was not so nice.

He wrote:

"There is no contribution to an understanding of the subject by the general public, but rather a small segment of interested persons. Requestor doesn't appear to have the capability to, or intention to, disseminate this information to the general public. Furthermore, there is no significant contribution to the public if it were widely released. Therefore, the request for a waiver of fees is denied."

He hasn't seen my article "How the United States Air Force Treats Independent Inventors." I have only now started writing it.

His statement, "Requestor doesn't appear to have the capability to, or intention to, disseminate this information to the general public[,]" suggests he hasn't seen my web site (www.jmargolin.com), and in particular, my article on NASA (How NASA Treats Independent Inventors).

Either that or he has decided to deliberately insult me.

I recommend he also visit my other Web sites: www.cordevistahoa.org and www.storeycountywindfarms.org www.cordevistahoa.org documents how a Developer came into my County (population 4,600) and proposed to build housing for 50,000 people.

I set up these Web sites to address issues that are important to my County (Storey County, NV).

One of the issues was water. Water is always an issue here in the West, especially in Nevada. We don't have much. The Developer refused to say where he was going to get water for 50,000 people. He also was not honest about the issue of soil contamination from the site's previous owners, which included Curtis Wright and Aerojet.

The Storey County Planning Commission publicly thanked me for putting up the Web site, saying it had helped them make their decision. (A grassroots movement against the project also helped.)

The Planning Commission turned down the Developer's application. The Storey County Commissioners accepted the Planning Commission's recommendations. The Developer sued Storey County. The Developer lost. The Developer appealed to the Nevada Supreme Court. Before the case was heard the Developer settled with the County. The Developer agreed to follow the existing zoning and the County agreed to allow for green energy development.

www.storeycountywindfarms.org contains the documents for a BLM project with Great Basin Wind to put up a wind farm of 69 enormous wind turbines. Some of them would be less than 1 mile from Virginia City. (The entire town of Virginia City is a National Historic Landmark.)

The project appears to be stalled:

http://www.blm.gov/nv/st/en/fo/carson_city_field/blm_programs/planning/new_comstock_wind.html

Part of the reason for this may be because I showed that Great Basin Wind lied on their project application.

For Mr. Booher to question my abilities, my intentions, or my resolve is a mistake.

Mr. Booher's email follows.

Regards,

Jed Margolin

Dear Jed,

No it shouldn't mean that at all. The system is not designed to handle multiple identical requests. It creates duplication of services and serious government waste (something our citizens tend to frown upon).

The IMIO is just a branch designation at the HAF level. I would assume it's an Information Management branch.

I hope you find what you are looking for.
 Respectfully,
 Pennie

Mr. Margolin, we did receive your appeal; however, we need clarification as to what you are actually appealing. Is it:

- Our "no records" response, if so, what is your justification

Or

- Are you filing a complaint on activities not listed in the Public Access Link?

Thanks, John

1. My Appeal is clearly marked, "Appeal under the Freedom of Information Act to USAF Response dated June 10, 2010" so it is, indeed, an Appeal.

My Appeal further states:

This is an Appeal under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. § 552 et seq.) to the USAF Response dated June 10, 2010 (Appendix at AFA3) in the above listed FOIA Requests filed April 26, 2010 (Appendix at AFA4) by Jed Margolin ("Margolin").

How can you interpret that as meaning anything else?

And what do you mean by "complaint on activities not listed in the Public Access Link?" What activities are you referring to? Are they supposed to be listed on the Public Access Link? And if they are not listed in the Public Access Link, and should be, why aren't they?

2. My Appeal is complete in itself and I will not repeat it or summarize it here. Perhaps you should read the Appeal.

3. The Freedom of Information Act is a Statute and takes precedence over a Department's/Agency's rules and regulations, especially when they are designed to frustrate the intent of the statute.

4. I want USAF to comply with the Freedom of Information Act. I want my FOIA Request honestly handled.

5. Please confirm that the address at which USAF accepts Legal Service is:

Air Force/JACL
 1501 Wilson Blvd.
 Arlington, VA 22209-2403

When I asked this question using OGC's FormMail I received a reply from someone who either does not understand the meaning of the term "Legal Service" or who intentionally misdirected me to the wrong departments. I had to spend time and energy finding this address. No one at USAF seems willing to provide an honest direct answer to a simple question.

6. Thank you for confirming that USAF has received my Appeal. The clock is running.

 Mr. Espinal,

We do not have a "disconnect."

We have an impasse which the Court will have to decide.

There is no point in sending multiple copies of my Appeal to all the locations, since the ones who did respond to my FOIA Request deferred to you. You are simply continuing to play the "Shell Game."

I have asked you to confirm the address at which USAF accepts Legal Service and you have ignored me.

When the time has passed for USAF to decide my Appeal (or USAF denies my Appeal) I will file suit in U.S. District Court for the District of Nevada and send a copy of the Summons and Complaint to:

Air Force/JACL
 1501 Wilson Blvd.
 Arlington, VA 22209-2403

If, later on, USAF asserts that I served the wrong address I will inform the Court of your refusal to provide, or even confirm, the correct address and ask that USAF be sanctioned.

Regards,

Jed Margolin

Mr. Espinol.

I have already replied to your questions. See attached email. Perhaps you should read it this time.

Your correspondence makes it clear that you have no intention of complying with the Freedom of Information Act.

Please confirm that I have exhausted all the administrative remedies that USAF has to offer in this matter.

Mr. Margolin, we still need clarification on what exactly you are appealing. Is it the "no records" response to 2010-04186-F; however, you did not provide justification as to why another search should be conducted. Or are you complaining about the Public Access Link website?

No action can be taken at this time until we hear from you. Thanks for your time and assistance.

John

Mr. Margolin, we did receive your appeal; however, we need clarification as to what you are actually appealing. Is it:

- Our "no records" response, if so, what is your justification

Or

- Are you filing a complaint on activities not listed in the Public Access Link?

Thanks, John

I filed an appeal which USPS delivered on June 30, 2010.

According to the USAF FOIA web site no appeal was filed.

Did you receive the appeal?
